Short Bio

Hi I'm Daniel, a Film Editor based in London. Originally from Malta I successfully managed to gain invaluable experience working my way up through the various Studio and Independent film productions - which were plentiful thanks to the locations, filming tanks and of course the tax rebates. Due to this influx of productions for the past 15 years after assisting very talented and established editors I feel I managed to shape and enhance my craft and skills to become the editor I am today.

I believe that I am a versatile editor with experience in Feature Films, TV Drama, Short Films, Documentaries, Music Videos, Trailers, Teasers, Promos and Sizzle Sequences. I love the collaboration process with likewise passionate people and always strive to get the very best out of what is presented approaching every project with an open mind and a commitment to enjoy the process.
